Endless Possibilities Await

For the first time in 65 years, seize the rare opportunity to own a property with 1,114m² of land in the heart of Thomastown. This central location offers endless possibilities for buyers. You can choose to restore the original three-bedroom, one-bathroom home to its former glory with renovations and potentially redevelop the backyard (STCA). Alternatively, you might decide to knock down the existing structure and create a multi-unit site from scratch (STCA) or build your dream home.

The existing property features three distinctive living zones, including a lounge, kitchen meals area, and a rumpus room, providing ample space for a family. Outside, there's a double garage and plenty of room for various uses.
